BEGIN WORK TO TAKE CARE OF BONUS CLAIMS

Washington Officials Join Hands to Adjust Government to New Situation — Congress Co-operates

BIG FORCE NEEDED

3,000 Additional Workers Required Immediately to Circulate Blanks and Gather the Necessary Data

Washington, May 20. — Official Washington joined hands today in a move to adjust the government to the soldier bonus bill.

Congress, which forced the bill into law over the President's veto, showed a willingness to co-operate in adjusting so far as possible the pending tax reduction bill to conform to the added cost of the bonus.

The various executive departments charged with administration of the bonus law hurriedly began to assemble their forces. The administrative question was taken up at the cabinet meeting, and it was determined that upward of 3,000 additional employes would be required immediately for the work of circulating application blanks and assembling necessary data.

While President Coolidge's attitude as to the possibility of tax reduction as proposed in the revenue bill now in conference in congress remained undefined, the conferees, after two three-hour sessions, indicated every effort would be made to mold the measure on as satisfactory a basis as possible.

Both Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee and Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee expressed the belief that the conferees would decide on a bill by tomorrow which would be acceptable to the administration.

Treasury Deficit Certain.

There is no chance, however, Mr. Smoot said, of pruning down the proposed cut in taxes to prevent a treasury deficit under present estimates of revenue for the next fiscal year.

While the estimated expense of $150,000,000 for the next fiscal year on account of the bonus can not be provided for in the pending tax bill, which experts say will more than exterminate the estimated surplus over the necessary government expenditures, administration leaders in congress expressed the opinion today that the bill would be signed because of the stimulus it will afford to business.

This view was predicted on the elimination of the senate amendment for full publicity of tax returns and a tax on undistributed corporation profits yet to be considered in conference. Both proposals have been declared objectional to the President and there were indications today that the conferees would eliminate both. Representative Garner, Texas, in charge of the Democratic tax fight in the house, has never declared in favor of either proposal, both of which were voted in by the senate on Democratic-Republican insurgent votes.

Will Urge Tax Bill Acceptance.

Senator Smoot declared he would recommend acceptance by President Coolidge of the tax bill on the ground that any deficit which might occur next year would be offset in later years by increased returns as a result of the beneficial effect on business of a tax cut now.

The American Red Cross joined the government departments today in the work of distributing to veterans application blanks and issue full instruction on the provisions of the bonus bill and it planned to have this well under way within a few days.

The greatest burden of administrative work will come during the next year. Although none of the insurance certificates will be issued before January 1, and the cash payments will not be made until after March 1, the task of examining the approximately 4,000,000 applications expected will be [illegible] way as quickly as possible.

The war department today submitted an estimate of $4,500,000 to the budget bureau as the amount necessary to meet administration expense during the next fiscal year. This contemplates the employment of more than 2,500 additional clerks and the verification of records of about 4,000,000 World war veterans.

[illegible] Future Effect.

Similar work must be undertaken by the navy department although on a somewhat smaller scale. The Veterans bureau in which is vested actual control of administration of the law, will require additional appropriation.

On the question of probable results of the bonus bill on government finances, President Coolidge was represented today as believing the effect will be felt more in years to come than immediately. The law covers a period of 20 years, at the end of which the insurance certificates will be payable. It is estimated that the average cost over this period will amount to about $111,000,000.

Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee in asserting before the house ways and means committee recently that such an amount would be taken care of by the government, pointed out that appropriations amounting to more than $100,000,000 annually now for vocational training of veterans would be eliminated within a few years.

How to Figure Bonus Amount.

A veteran may determine the amount of his bonus this way:

Figure up the number of days of service. For each day of home service above the first sixty days $1 will be allowed in adjusted service credit and for each day of overseas service, above sixty days $1.25 will be given.

If this adjusted service credit does not amount to more than $50 it will be paid in cash. Otherwise an insurance policy will be given. The approximate value of this policy may be determined by adding 25 per cent to the amount of credit due and multiplying the total by about 2½.

Thus if a veteran served 400 days at home after the first sixty days, he would be entitled to a policy valued at $400 plus $100 (25 per cent of the amount) multiplied by 2½ or $1,250.)

JEW MASSACRES COST 12 LIVES

Son Sees Mother Burned to Death —Students Seek Bodies to Study

Budapest, May 20. — Jew baiting, which for sometime has ceased, was revived today at Budapest university under extraordinary circumstances. While Prof. Bugarszky was lecturing on general anatomy, some of the students rose and demanded that four of his Jewish auditors be killed on the spot in order to furnish material for dissection "so rarely have we seen Jewish corpses."

The students declared that only the bodies of Christian were submitted for anatomical study, as the Jews buried their poor dead. They asserted that it was unjust to them that Jews should profit through the study of the bodies of Christian dead.

Prof. Bugarszky protested energetically against the interruption. He called for the assistance of attendants, who succeeded in helping the four Jewish students to make their escape from the class room, after they had suffered minor bruises from students who attacked them. It was understood the university senate intends to expel the unruly students.

Sees Mother Burned to Death.

(Jewish Telegraph Agency)

Vienna, May 20. — Progoms against the Jewish population of Transylvania have been raging for several days, according to reports from Klausenberg. There have been massacres in several towns, 12 persons are said to have been killed, and large numbers wounded.

At Szatmar a Jewish student, Heinrich Kugler, is declared to have been hanged to a lamp post by a mob. His mother was drenched with petroleum and burned to death before his eyes, prior to his being hanged. Numerous Jewish stores were plundered and burned.

KILAUEA VOLCANO CAUSE OF ALARM

Activities Are Due to Earthquakes Rocking District — Missing Soldiers From Oswego

(By the Associated Press.)

Hilo, T. H., May 20.—The volcano of Kilauea, which has been in eruption for several days, is today displaying the most alarming indications, due to the large number of earthquakes that are rocking the district, according to Roy Finch, volcanologist in charge of the observatory.

An explosion at 9 o'clock last night was most spectacular, bright moonlight silhouetting the black column of smoke rising to an invisible height. There was also a small explosion at 4:45 o'clock this morning.

The military camp has been moved to Glenwood, where a danger line has been established. Captain Perkins is remaining at the volcano and two soldiers have volunteered to remain at the pit, which, formerly 2,800 by 2,050 feet, is now 25 by 100. All markings and monuments have been swept away.

Missing Soldier. From Oswego.

(By the Associated Press.)

Hilo, T. H., May 20. — Privates Edward Hinman and Howard Simmons, who have been missing since they left Friday for a hike, presumably to Kilauea volcano to watch the eruption, are both from Oswego, N. Y. They are 18 and 20 years of age, respectively.

DEER WRECKS AUTO AND IS KILLED, AS IS CHAUFFEUR

Berlin, May 20. — Blinded by the glare of the headlights of a motor car proceeding along a highway in a forest on the outskirts of Berlin this morning, a buck deer ran head on into the car and caused an accident in which the chauffeur was killed and the car owner and his wife were seriously injured. The deer's horns became entangled in the steering gear, causing the chauffeur to lose control. The motor car dashed into a ditch, killing instantly the chauffeur and the animal which had caused the accident. The car owner and his wife were rescued from the wreckage by passing motorists several hours later.

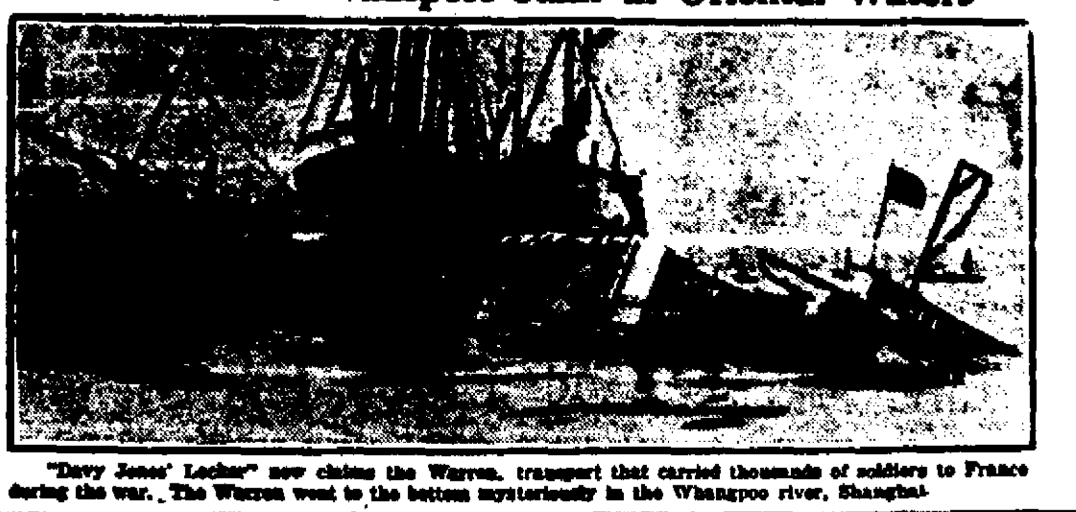

BABE RUTH NOW SOLDIER

New York, May 20. — Babe Ruth star slugger of the Yankees, is a soldier now—a buck private.

He joined the National Guard of New York today, enlisting with the 104th Field Artillery for three years. He was sworn in as he stood atop a gun carriage in Times Square. Police reserves had to be called to handle the crowds.

The Babe's enlistment was in response to a national guard membership drive.

COOLIDGE RETAINS WORLD COURT STAND

Lodge and Associates Seek Plan Which Would Harmonize With Position

Washington, May 20. — Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee were told by President Coolidge at the White House conference tonight that his position with reference to the World court question was the same as indicated in his message on the subject and in various statements since made.

The committee members, who were headed by Chairman Lodge, it was said, would attempt to formulate a plan which would be in harmony with the President's position.

The conference was described as primarily for the purpose of ascertaining ways and means of giving effect to the President's recommendation for American adherence to the permanent court of international justice.

No Decision Reached.

The meeting was preliminary to a session of the full foreign relations committee tomorrow at which the question of action on American World court membership will be discussed for the first time during the present session of congress.

Senators attending said no decisions were reached and no conclusion arrived at but that a harmony of purpose prevailed to give effect to the President's recommendation in a way to command the greatest public support. The various plans which have been put forward for American World court membership were considered during the conference which lasted three and a half hours, and [illegible] making a special study of the question, carried away with him an outline of a proposal.

PUBLIC MAY ATTEND FUNERAL OF GOV. SMITH'S MOTHER

New York, May 20. — So many friends and admirers of Mrs. Catherine Smith, mother of Governor Smith, wish to pay their last respects to her that the funeral services to be held at the Church of the Assumption in Brooklyn tomorrow morning will be more elaborate than at first planned. Cardinal Hayes, who spent his boyhood in the East side neighborhood in which Mrs. Smith raised her family, will pronounce the absolution, at his own request.

In deference to Mrs. Smith's well known antipathy to any kind of "fuss" in her behalf, her family had intended to make the services as simple as possible. When they discovered, however, how many persons desired to attend, they decided not to keep the ceremony private. General public will be admitted to the church after those with invitations have been seated.

SAVES CHILDREN FROM SMOKE-FILLED ATTIC

Rochester, May 20. — Groping in smoke that filled the attic of her home today, Mrs. Mabel Berlin saved her two children from suffocation.

She was at work in her apartment on the second floor when she smelled smoke. She had left her children, Harold, Jr., 3, and Verna, 21 months, at play in the attic. When she opened the attic stair door, a cloud of smoke drove her back.

Then she plunged into the smoke and flame and saved the children, both partially overcome. Damage from the fire was slight.

PREVENT SPREAD OF FLAMES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—Scores of firemen working in four-hour shifts fought all night to prevent flames still rising from the ruins left by a $200,000 gasoline vapor explosion at the plant of the Craig Oil Refining company here yesterday from spreading to 11 more huge metal tanks containing 500,000 gallons of gasoline and kerosene.

Within the seven tanks containing gasoline, according to Henry Max, president of the concern, the fluid was boiling.

PEACE JUSTICE ARRESTED.

Syracuse, May 20.—J. Kent Wright, justice of the peace of Baldwinsville, is under arrest today facing trial on a charge of being intoxicated while driving an automobile. He was arrested last night at Cicero by State Troopers. His companion, Mrs. Frances Wetzel, proprietress of a club house near here, also was held.

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 20. — Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh was re-elected Democratic national committee member from Pennsylvania by the Democratic state convention at its organization meeting here today.

Mrs. Lillie D. Berry of Philadelphia was elected as the woman member of the national committee.

FARM AID BILL MAKES LITTLE ADVANCEMENT

Not Reached by House Until Late in Day—Night Session Hindered Because of Lack of Quorum

MEMBERS ARRESTED

Longworth Charges Attempts to Delay Measure When Quorum Reached at 10:20—Not to Come Up Today

Washington, May 20. — The house took up formally today the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill under a program calling for 15 hours of general debate but made little progress with it.

It was late in the day before the measure was reached, and although brief debate was then conducted, plans for a night session with three or more hours devoted to the legislation went awry through inability to muster a quorum until after 10 o'clock.

Points of no quorum were made frequently almost as soon as the measure came under consideration. Recessing for dinner, the house convened again at 8 o'clock, only to lose [illegible] January, and at best could muster only 181 members, nearly 40 less than the required number.

Representative Kincheloe, Democrat, Kentucky, a member of the agriculture committee which reported the bill, then moved to adjourn, but this was rejected, 115 to 12.

Representative Longworth, the Republican leader, finally moved that the sergeant-at-arms be ordered to arrest the absentees and bring them to the chamber and his motion was carried.

Not to Come Up Today.

While the house voted for absentees to be rounded up numerous members, including house leaders, gathered in the corridor and flooded the chamber with melodies, including My Old Kentucky Home and There's a Long, Long Trail.

After a quorum had been obtained at 10:20 o'clock, Representative Wingo, Democrat, Arkansas, demanded the names of those "arrested be printed in the Record." Representative Longworth then charged some members were attempting to delay progress on the bill. A chorus of "noes" rose from the Democratic side of the chamber.

Taking up the debate, upon the completion of the quorum, Representative Voigt, Republican, Wisconsin, a committee member, declared that although the needs for farm relief were urgent, he must condemn the bill because it was a price fixing measure.

Concluding shortly before midnight, Mr. Voight was the only speaker of the evening session, the house then adjourning.

The McNary-Haugen bill will not be taken up tomorow, being laid aside under a previous agreement for miscellaneous matters.

The Day in Washington

Plans for a recess of the Daugherty committee were agreed upon.

The cabinet considered steps for carrying out provisions of the soldier bonus act.

The senate in debate reviewed the charges against Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana.

The house took up the McNary-Haugen farm aid bill with debate limited to 15 hours.

The resignation of Cyrus E. Woods as ambassador to Japan, was accepted by President Coolidge.

The house shipping board committee heard testimony bearing upon the claim of the Atlantic corporation of Portsmouth, N. H.

Charges of heavy campaign expenditures in Texas by the Ku Klux Klan were denied before the senate Mayfield investigation committee.

Chairman Butler of the house naval committee said $136,000,000 was needed to make the American navy equal in strength to that of Great Britain.

Chairman Lodge and several members of the senate foreign relations committee conferred with President Coolidge preparatory to consideration of world court proposals.

HARRY K. THAW FACES 3 CHARGES

Makes First Appearance in New York City in Seven and Half Years

New York, May 20. — Harry K. Thaw returned to New York city today after an absence of seven and one-half years. Within 20 minutes after he had stepped from a train in Pennsylvania station he had been arraigned and had pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging assault in the second degree, and kidnapping of Frederick Gump, Jr., in 1916.

Bail for the two indictments was fixed at $10,000 and Thaw was released. After he had gone to the office of his attorney, he was recalled to court for arraignment on a third indictment which had been recovered from the court's files. This indictment charged Thaw with a conspiracy to get Gump, then 14 years old, out of the jurisdiction of the court after the alleged attack.

Returning to the criminal court building, Thaw also pleaded not guilty to this charge. He was released in the custody of his counsel until tomorrow, when his bail is to be adjusted to include the conspiracy indictment. Thaw had planned to return to Pittsburgh tonight, but after being paroled he arranged to remain here overnight.

Thaw passed several exciting hours immediately after his arrival. When he stepped from the train, accompanied by one of his attorneys and a hired man companion, who was with him, instantly, he was served with two bench warrants by a detective from the district attorney's office. He had successfully evaded these warrants for [illegible]

METHODISTS AGAIN DECIDE TO ELECT FIVE BISHOPS

Springfield, Mass., May 20. — A prolonged tussle between opposing forces over the number of bishops to be maintained by the Methodist Episcopal general conference ended today with a victory for the advocates of the status quo. As a result, the election of five bishops to fill existing vacancies was begun, and the result of the first ballot will be announced tomorrow morning.

Last Saturday the delegates voted to create five new bishops. There were six vacancies, but the St. Louis and Wichita, Kan., areas had been merged in a new area centering in Kansas City, Mo. Yesterday the conference reconsidered, and a compromise of three new bishops was agreed upon. The Episcopacy committee forced as a result to eliminate two more areas, recommended this morning that the Paris and Helena, Mont., residences should go. Appeals from delegates in the areas affected, however, moved the conference to adopt a substitute which retained Paris and Helena, and thus reversed the committee report.

PENNSYLVANIA G. O. P. BACK OF PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

Philadelphia, May 20. — The Pennsylvania delegation to the Republican national convention, in caucus here today, placed itself emphatically behind the candidacy of President Coolidge. The caucus unanimously elected Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is a delegate-at-large, chairman of the delegation and he presided, while the delegates selected Pennsylvania's representatives on the committee of the national convention.

Prior to the caucus the Republican state committee unanimously re-elected Senator George Wharton Pepper, national committeeman.

W. Harry Baker, Dauphin county, was re-elected state chairman, and Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, Lehigh county, was elected vice chairman.

STEAMER WRECKED; FIVE DEAD

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 20.— The captain, the chief engineer and one wheelsman are among the dead in the wreck of the steamer Orinoco on Lake Superior, a wireless message to the owners of the tug Gargantua, which went to the rescue, said tonight. The message did not give the names of any of the dead.

Re-check of the list of dead tonight, through additional wireless messages, showed that five lives had been lost instead of four as previously reported.

BANDITS ROB GYPSIES

Uniontown, Pa., May 20. — Twelve thousand dollars in gold and currency was the prize of four bandits, who, posing as officers, early today raided a gypsy tent at Dunbar, near here, according to reports to county authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Ice Western and their 17-year-old daughter, Anna, occupants of the tent, were attacked by the robbers, who struck them with the butts of their pistols. The bandits escaped.

KLAN ACTIVITIES BEFORE COMMITTEE

Charges and Denials Made of Money Used in Mayfield Senatorial Election

Washington, May 20. — Charges of Ku Klux Klan activities in the election of Senator Mayfield, Texas, particularly in reference to the use of money, occupied the attention today of the senate committee investigating the question. The use of Klan money in the 1922 elections was denied by N. N. Furney, cashier of the Imperial palace, and by J. E. McQuinn, auditor and assistant cashier, and was asserted by J. Q. Gett of White Path, Ga., a former Klan employe.

Both Furney and McQuinn were emphatic in their statements that no Klan money had been used and Gett was equally positive that Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans had turned over $25,000 to Furney for use in the Mayfield campaign. This Furney denied.

It was impossible for any Klan money to be used at any time for any purpose without his knowledge, Furney told the committee, and Chairman Spencer at once interjected an inquiry as to whether the Klan had expended any money in Texas, directly or indirectly, in the election of Senator Mayfield. Furney replied with an emphatic "No, sir."

Denies Klan Spent Money.

Not only did Gett insist that Imperial Wizard Evans had given Furney money for use in the Mayfield elections, but he asserted that the Klan "all the way down" was stealing "Klan funds" and that all employes were "grafting."

McQuinn was equally sweeping in his denial of the expenditure of Klan money in the Mayfield campaign.

"Is there anything in your records or in any papers of your organization," asked Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia, "that shows that the organization spent any money in the Mayfield campaign in Texas, either during the primary or general elections?"

"No, sir," McQuinn answered, "the organization did not spend a cent in those elections."

TEX RICKARD AND OTHERS INDICTED

Understood Illegal Transportation of the Dempsey-Carpentier Fight Films Charged

[illegible] ments against Tex Rickard, as film men, and an unknown corporation for the transportation of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films are reported to have been returned by a federal grand jury today, which has been investigating the charges.

The indictments are understood to charge illegal transportation of the films in interstate commerce. The federal grand jury has heard scores of witnesses during an investigation which has proceeded for several weeks. Assistant Attorney General Segar came here from Washington to conduct the case. It is understood that warrants will be issued in Trenton, possibly tomorrow.

Federal Judge Runyon received indictments from the grand jury today, and official sources stated it was understood that Rickard was among those named. The grand jury investigation was started after testimony was given in Washington that the fight films had been shown there in the home of Edward B. McLean, publisher. McLean was subpoenaed to appear here during the grand jury investigation but it was later said that he would not be called unless necessary.

GIRL STUDENT DROWNED

Ithaca, May 20.—Miss Ruth Brachman, 20, a student in the conservatory of music, was drowned late this afternoon in a canoeing accident on Cayuga lake, about five miles north of this city. Her companions, Miss Virginia Weber of Howard, Pa., and Muriel Jones of Dallas, Tex., are in the City hospital in a serious condition from shock and exposure but are expected to recover.

The three students were thrown into the icy waters of the lake when the canoe overturned about 50 yards from the west shore.

FRENCHMAN ABANDONS FLIGHT.

(By the Associated Press)

Shanghai, May 20. — Captain Pelletier Doisy, who arrived here yesterday from Canton on his flight from Paris to Japan, has announced the definite abandonment of his attempt, owing to the damage which his airplane sustained in landing.

Captain Doisy said "the war department instructed me on leaving Paris to proceed as far as Shanghai, Indo-China, then to go as far as I might desire with this airplane. Since the airplane is demolished beyond repair, I have decided to terminate the undertaking."

ROCKY KANSAS WINS AT BINGO.

Binghamton, May 20. — Rocky Kansas of Buffalo decisively defeated Freddie Jacks of England here tonight in a six-round bout. Kansas dropped Jacks for a count of three in the third and had the Englishman groggy in the sixth. Jacks did his best work in the first and fourth rounds.

EXPRESS RATES CUT.

Washington, May 20. — The interstate commerce commission today ordered a 1½ per cent reduction in the express rates on fruit, berries, vegetables, butter and eggs, when shipped in carloads. The order was an amendment to an order on November 10, 1922, which reduced express rates on food articles 10 per cent.

SAYS HE WOULD NOT APPROVE PEPPER'S PLAN

General Counsel of Shipping Board Testifies of Overtures by Senators Regarding Claim Settlement

COOLIDGE QUOTED

Said to Have Approved Method Advocated — Board Already Passed on Claim and Ordered Litigation Started

Washington, May 20. — Chauncey G. Parker, general counsel of the Shipping board, testified today in the house shipping inquiry that he had refused to listen to overtures from Senator Pepper, Pennsylvania, and Moses and Keyes, New Hampshire, Republicans, that the board settle a claim, on the basis of Mr. Pepper's opinion, with the Atlantic corporation of Portmouth, N. H.

The corporation has a claim of $1,924,000 against the board for payments on the construction of 10 steel vessels, in addition to $800,000 as an offset on a government mortgage of $1,650,000 on the plant.

In previous testimony the committee had developed that Senator Pepper had been asked by former Chairman Lasker for an opinion in the case. His findings were rejected, however, and the board instituted foreclosure proceedings against the company.

Asked by Representative Connally, Democrat, Texas, if any pressure had been brought to bear on the board since the committee last considered the case, Judge Parker told of an interview three or four weeks ago in which Senators Pepper, Moses and Charles H. Tyler, attorney of the company, and Albert Hislip of Portmouth participated.

"Moses was the spokesman," he said. "They said to me that President Coolidge was very anxious that a settlement should be made on the basis of Senator Pepper's opinion and also asked me if I would urge the board to adopt that recommendation.

Ordered to [illegible] Claims.

"I told them I regretted very much that I was unable to take that [illegible] instructions to the same company to proceed with litigation to defend the claims."

"In view of that action, he asserted, he suggested that they take their plea to his supervisors on the board.

"Did they say that the President had ever seen the Pepper opinion?" asked Mr. Connally.

"No," Parker replied.

He said his information was that the senators did not take up the case further with the board.

In effect, Mr. Pepper's opinion would have obligated the board to release the mortgage and pay all the claims of the company, including one of $100,000 representing "earnest" money put up by Tyler, and Arthur Sharp, an official of the company.

BORAH DEFENDS WHEELER REPORT

Says 'To Presume Him Guilty Is to Presume Every Witness' on Stand Perjurer

Washington, May 20. — A review of the evidence covering the circumstances under which Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, was indicted in his home state on a charge of taking a fee for representing a claimant before the interior department, was given the senate today by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, as chairman of the special committee which investigated the matter. The only way Senator Wheeler could be found guilty, Senator Borah said, was "to presume him guilty and to presume every witness who testified about his law contract to be a perjurer."

Senator Borah's remarks were aimed at the minority report brought from his committee to the senate by Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, who disagreed with his four associates in their majority conclusion that Senator Wheeler was guiltless "in spirit and letter of the law," of the charges brought against him. Senator Sterling interrupted Senator Borah once or twice during his review of the committee evidence, but said he would wait until tomorrow before entering his response.

OLD STEAMER BURNED AND LARGEST LAKE SHIP SAVED

Cleveland, May 20. — The passenger steamer State of Ohio, one of the oldest on the Great Lakes, was destroyed by fire at the municipal pier here early today with a loss estimated at $200,000. John Lee, 50, who for forty years was watchman for the Cleveland and Buffalo Transit company, is missing and is believed to have lost his life aboard the steamer, where he usually lounged.

The See and Bee, the largest passenger boat on the lakes, was threatened as the flames, swept by a high east wind, leaped across the wharf.

AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT

What is one of the tricks of a good first baseman in handling throws?

Answered by
EARL SHEELY

First Baseman, Chicago White Sox. A man who has made good in the big league after eight years in the minors.

• • •

Nearly every beginner who tries to play first base has trouble in shifting his feet correctly. When making a putout on a perfect throw, a right-handed first baseman should touch the base with the right foot, stretching out with his left in the direction from which the throw is coming. He will find he can reach a foot farther by following this rule than if he kept the left foot on the base; and he will always be in perfect position for a quick throw. Of course, a left-handed man should make the same play just opposite; that is, the left foot on bag, etc.

On throws to the right of the base, keep left foot on base and step out with the right. On throws to the left of bag, keep right foot on base and stretch with the left. Form the habit of "helping" every throw.

PETE DONOHUE PAID $5.85 TO HURL GAME

Cincinnati Star Caught in Texas Exhibition Contest.

Ever hear of a major league pitching star paying $5.85 to pitch a game on a barnstorming trip?

No!

Well, that's what happened to Peter J. Donohue of the Cincinnati Nationals, who was the feature performer in a barnstorming game between the Fort Worth All-Stars and a club at Leonard, Tex., led by Topper Rigney, Detroit shortstop.

You see it all came about this way: Pete agreed to pitch the game for the Fort Worth club and the team departed for Leonard via the automobile route. It was agreed that the company which furnished the automobiles would be paid a certain sum.

The boys were off for Leonard one Saturday morning. It ordinarily takes about four hours to make the 100-mile trip. But it rained all night and bad roads slowed the automobiles up. As a result, the team arrived in Leonard an hour after time for the game to start.

The guarantee on Saturday's game was automatically off.

Sunday, it rained hard all morning.

But the boys didn't care—they had rain insurance. If Jupe Pluvo would only turn on the faucet from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. for .10 inches the team would collect $1,250.

Unfortunately it stopped before the insurance time limit. The sun came out. But only 300 fans were out to see the game.

At 4:15 p. m.—fifteen minutes after the insurance policy expired!—it rained cats and dogs. The game was called off in the third inning, the fans got their money back and the players were left holding the sack.

Then they all had to pitch in to pay the automobile company!

Pete says it was the first time he'd ever paid for the privilege of pitching a baseball game.

A Dramatic Finish   By Feg Murray

DORANDO Pietri OF ITALY. AFTER COLLAPSING ON THE TRACK. BEING HELPED ACROSS THE FINISH LINE OF THE MARATHON AT THE 1908 OLYMPIC GAMES IN LONDON. DORANDO WAS DISQUALIFIED FOR HAVING BEEN ASSISTED.

The American marathon team, headed by Clarence de Mar, who last month broke the world's record for the 26-mile grind, sails this week-end for France to try to win that point for America in the coming Olympics. The only time that an American ever finished first in this classic was when Hicks won at the St. Louis games in 1904, and there was little foreign competition at that time. An American won again in 1908 at the London games, but only after the Italian Dorando, who finished first, was disqualified.

Dorando Pietri, as game an Italian as ever lived, entered the stadium at the end of the 26-mile run and started to walk to the tape a few yards away. His ... would not respond to his will, however, and he collapsed on the track. Helping hands lifted him to his feet and again he struggled on, only to collapse once more. Another heroic effort—for he really was in a pitiful condition—and he sank again on the cinderpath, cry went up—"An American!" and the eyes of the crowd turned to the entrance where Johnny Hayes was trotting into the stadium. Dorando was helped the rest of the distance to the tape by the clerk of the course. There was nothing else to do but to disqualify him, however, as a competitor must finish a race alone and unaided. Thus Johnny Hayes of America won the Marathon in 1908.

Tennis Star Training for Olympics

In three short seasons Helen Wills, seventeen-year-old Berkeley (Cal.) miss, has come to be regarded as Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen's most dangerous rival at the coming Paris Olympic games. Miss Wills is preparing now for an early trip to Europe to be in condition for the noted Frenchwoman. As proof that tennis does not dominate her entire interests, Miss Wills carried off the highest scholastic honors in her first semester as a freshman at the University of California.

WILL WAR ON CROWS TO SAVE GAME BIRDS

Sportsmen Plan Campaign to Wipe Out Pests.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Investigations of the crow which have taken place recently on a scale wider than ever before have proven that he is one of the most destructive creatures to useful and game birds, and to poultry and crops. In fact, his depredations are so widespread and fraught with such evil results that sportsmen all over the country are banding together to shoot him so that the game which remains can have a better chance of coming to maturity.

A census taken among the game wardens in Pennsylvania recently showed that an overwhelming number of the men in the field were positive, from actual observation, of the destructive habits of the crow and they advised that campaigns be undertaken against him.

Some naturalists have claimed that not only directly does the crow damage the farmer, by attacking young poultry and destroying crops, but that indirectly he is vastly more destructive. His indirect work is done when he destroys millions of the eggs of useful birds and therefore prevents the coming of maturity of these auxiliaries of the farmer who would, had they been allowed to exist, have accounted for myriads of insects. In fact, naturalists have said that the farmer's bill for insecticides would be greatly lowered were the crow prevented from killing useful birds who are the natural enemies of the insect pests.

In the West hunters are employed to kill off the predatory animals which prey on the cattle and great sums have been saved by their activities.

It appears that organized effort against the crow will also save great sums in other parts of the country if this particular menace to bird life is reduced in numbers.

The various campaigns against the crow have followed on the heels of the great conservation movement to protect game which is now finding such a response among sportsmen in all parts of the country.

With the efforts made to provide proper refuges for useful birds comes the question of protecting their young against the predatory creatures which prey on them.

When Brain Stops Growing.

There is no definite age at which the brain stops growing; it depends on how much and how wholesomely the brain is used. The more the brain is used (within reasonable health boundaries) the longer it grows. The limit might safely be placed at forty years.

Church Notes.

Episcopal—A very good congregation greeted Bishop Oldham at his first visitation last Thursday evening and listened to an illuminating talk on the church. There were seven confirmed: Mrs. Henry Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. George Weatherly and son, Morgan, Mrs. John Daniels and Milton and Howard Southern. On Friday morning the Bishop spoke to the auxiliary most acceptably and at 12 o'clock all sat down to the missionary dinner, which was splendidly served by Mrs. Gould, Miss Quimby, Mrs. Southworth, Mrs. Bourne and Mrs. Kate Mansfield. Altogether the visit of the Bishop was an inspiration to all and his coming again will be looked forward to with pleasure.

At the later session of the auxiliary after luncheon a most admirable paper, written by Mrs. Katherine Duroe, was read, and the report of the recent convention at Troy was given by Mrs. Hutchinson, who was the only attendant. The election of officers followed, all the present officers being re-elected.

There will be no services on Friday evening of this week. Services on Sunday next as usual. The rector is spending a few days in Troy.

Methodist church—There will be no prayer meeting on Thursday evening of this week. Universalist — The ladies of the church will hold a food sale at Belden Bart's store on Saturday afternoon of this week. Orders may be left with Mrs. Ora Backus or Mrs. Carrie Calvin.

BETTER HOMES IN OTSEGO

Poster Contest Closes Saturday Evening — Prizes Awarded.

Otsego, May 20. — The Better Home Poster contest which had engaged the attention of several of our enterprising citizens during the past week, especially the younger portion of the community, was brought to a successful termination on Saturday evening by holding a Block party on River street, which was not only a very pleasant event for those who were directly interested in the enterprise, but also for those who witnessed it. Several gasoline torches were kindly loaned for the occasion. There was music and dancing and numerous sports and games and a jolly good time was had all around. On Tuesday evening, Mr. Beal gave an address which was greatly appreciated by a good sized audience, at Grange hall, at which time Miss B. Sawyer sang "I Love a Little Cottage," and a violin obligato was rendered by Bernadine Topping. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. Enderlin opened her home for Better Home demonstration, and Miss Roserman gave a very interesting address and demonstration. On Friday evening Better Home slides were shown and a radio concert was enjoyed at the Methodist church parlors. The prizes were awarded at the close of the entertainment on Saturday evening as follows: First prize, Miss Evelyn Wilbur; second, Miss Marie Place; third, Lynn Secor.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WEBSTER

She and Husband, After Nearly 60 Years of Wedded Life, Die Within Few Hours of Each Other—Memorial Services Sunday Evening.

Laurens, May 20. — The funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Webster were held on Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Episcopal church. The church was filled with friends who had come to give their last farewell to one so universally respected.

Rev. Graves used as a text II Samuel 1:23: "Lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in death they were not divided," saying in part that though the text referred to Saul and Jonathan yet this occasion was well represented by these words. Man and wife had departed this life practically within a few hours of each other.

For nearly 60 years Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Webster had stood side by side in the difficulties of life. How lovely and pleasant when two lives surmount the ups and downs included in home and family life. To love and to cherish in sickness and in health was beautifully illustrated in a reflection of their lives and then for God to practically call them home together.

Mrs. Webster had arraigned herself on the side of the forces of righteousness by her activity with the W. C. T. U. and the church. Death was not a diversion to them, but a multiplication, said the pastor.

Lead Kindly Light and Some Day the Silver Chord Will Break, were read as fitting verses for the occasion.

The W. C. T. U., of which Mrs. Webster had previously been president for a number of years, attended the services in a body. Many beautiful flowers were given in honor of her whose life had left its earthly form. The bearers were friends and neighbors of the deceased, Charles Naylor, Gervas Cornell, William Youmans, and Fred M. Hand. Burial was in Hillington cemetery, Morris.

Grange Meeting Friday Night.

The regular meeting of the Laurens grange will be held this week Friday night, at Grange hall.

Swiftly up with the PIKES PEAK MOTOR
4-Door Sedan $1895 f. o. b. Cleveland

WHETHER your problem is to pull the long, hard climb in high gear, or to descend the sharp down grade with sure-footed safety — a Chandler is the only answer!

The Pikes Peak Motor made Chandler the national performance champion — a matchless conqueror of hills, fleet and brilliantly responsive in traffic.

The Traffic Transmission, with nothing new to learn in its operation, overcomes the clashing of gears and permits any driver to make a split-second, silent change from high to low or low to high at any time.

Facile handling in traffic is assured. Skidding dangers are eliminated. The instant use of the motor as a positive brake on hills becomes a certainty.

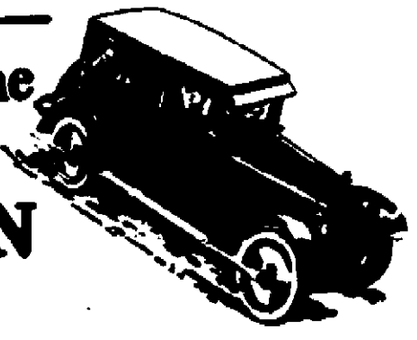

Only Chandler offers this master performance combination of invincible motor and infallible transmission.

We urge you to arrange for a demonstration drive. It will be a revelation.

Despite its slight extra cost over the touring car, the illustrated model carries a Chandler-Fisher body notable for its smart beauty and substantial construction.

BIRTH AND MORTALITY

The annual report of the Bureau of the Census at Washington which recently has been issued, shows that the birth rates in 1923 were lower than in 1922 for 31 of the 37 states in which figures for the two years are comparatively shown. Death rates on the other hand were higher in 25 of 36 states shown for both years, and infant mortality rates are noticeably higher in 17 of the 27 states which show the birth record. There are three states in which the mortality figures are practically identical for the two years, eight in which they were lower, and 25 in which they were higher. A notably low rate is shown in the rural districts of Idaho, here it is 6.5 for each 1,000 of population. Of course this would not be maintained, but if it could the average age of men would be over 150 years. The cause of these remarkable figures is undoubtedly the fact that it is a newly settled state with vigorous adults coming from other sections. Most of these have naturally a high expectancy of life. When the state has longer been populated and the balance between children, middle age and old age has been reached, the figures will naturally approximate those of the country as a whole.

The table by cities shows that exclusive of still births, Oneonta had 21.1 births per 1,000 of population during the past year, and 16 deaths, with the same exclusion. 18.6 per 1,000. In 1922 the figures were 21.7 and 13.7 respectively. In Oneida, with approximately the same population and general conditions, there were last year 20.7 births to 1,000 population and 17.5 deaths. In the state of New York as a whole the births in 1923 were 21.2 per 1,000 last year, and of deaths 13 per 1,000.

The whole list shows a gradual but steady increase in the life period, as shown by the decrease in deaths per 1,000, and there is no question that the special work now being done for the prevention of communicable diseases has proved very satisfactory. It will of course be understood that the deaths in any single community may be affected by temporary local conditions, as for example the prevalence of epidemics; and in cities like Oneonta it is increased by the fact that a considerable number of deaths of [illegible] occur in local hospitals. With these the city should not properly be charged.

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING.

The Associated Advertising clubs of the World are going to spend $121,000 this year on a campaign to secure advertising sincerity. They say they are going to work at more strict and careful enforcement of advertising laws now existing, and to urge such legislation where it is lacking. They have praised the federal and local authorities for aid given in the past year to prevent fraud in advertising, and have made an especial point of commending the postmaster general for the work of the mail department in keeping mails free from fraudulent ads.

The advertising fraternity and the merchants and manufacturers they represent have come a long way from the old "Caveat Emptor" days. They know that sound business can be built only on square dealing in every particular. Every effort is made by the producers to turn out honest goods, and by the advertisers to speak of them in such a manner that the reader and buyer can rely absolutely on the printed word.

CHEERFUL GENEROSITY

"God loveth a cheerful giver."—II Cor. 9:7.

It is a common mistake to limit our conception of generosity to those who can give large gifts.

The lesson that Jesus taught us in His story of the poor widow and her mite is not yet popularly accepted.

It is perhaps trite to say that the generosity of any particular gift depends on what the giver has to begin with; but if we all realized it, it would make an enormous difference in our use of the word generous.

We ought to look upon our money as part of ourselves and when we give to a cause we ought to give with a cheerful spirit, rejoicing that we are enabled to have a share in that cause.

To give grudgingly, as if you tore off yourself, How small a gift can I give consistent with respectability? is not to give at all in the spiritual sense.

And yet how many of our gifts, even to worthy causes, are made in that way!

And how often we give, like Sir Launts; to the beggar, scornfully, or at the easiest way to be rid of importunity.

It is the heart with the gift that makes it royal.

Many a church is blessed with gifts cheerfully given out of sacrifice.

But many gifts are shorn of much of their power by the perfunctory and grudging manner in which they are made.

Whether we have little or much to give, at least we can give cheerfully.

And who can say what effect that will have in the realm of the spirit when all good gifts are given?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

He Did What Was Right.

But the President did what he believed to be right, leaving consequences to take care of themselves. He was unmoved by political considerations, whether touching his party, or personal to himself as a candidate. It is thus that an American President should always act. It is every year becoming more and more necessary that the man in the White House should so act, as congress is getting to be less and less regardful of the welfare of the people as a whole, of the constitution's "general welfare." —Indianapolis News.

The Difference.

Wheeler, assailed, demands and is given every facility for clearing himself before the public. But those whom his witnesses have been allowed and even urged to throw mud at are helpless. There is no opportunity for them to meet charges, or whisper, or rumor. The wierdest of yarns must stand as they are told, and the only protection that any public official, from the White House down, has from assassins of character is faith that the people will be stickers for fair play.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mr. Lodge a Temptation.

Every knock is a boost and probably the highest service the paragraphers could render their country in their treatment of Senator Lodge would be not to treat him at all, but there are limits to self-mastery, and we do not suppose our times have produced a paragrapher who finds it within his power to refrain from saying something once in a while about a prominent public servant who wears spats and acts like it.—Ohio State Journal.

May Blame Communists Next.

The Ohio Bell Telephone company shocked and depressed by the rarity of even-handed justice in this old vale of tears, almost sobbingly accuses Vic Donahey of playing politics when he hesitates a little over the corporation's proposal to shoot up the rates charged for its invaluable service, and we suppose it's holding the sinister interests and the Russian Reds in reserve.—Ohio State Journal.

Speaks for Himself.

When someone is reported as making a "keynote" speech that sets forth the views of Calvin Coolidge, it is well to remember that President Coolidge has warned people against crediting him with views some one else expresses. Mr. Coolidge is not very long on talk but when he speaks there is no doubt about what he means.—Newcastle Courier.

The Power of Oratory.

Congress would save a good deal of time if some of the members could get over the notion that they are orators. Pernicious as is the leave-to-print custom, it does save time to both houses without wasting the time of anybody else except the employes of the public printing office and post-office department—and, of course, wasting the taxpayers' money.—Indianapolis News.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

ANOTHER CAUSE FOR OVERWEIGHT

You have been trying to reduce your weight and have been faithful in carrying out the usual suggestions.

You have cut down on the starches by omitting potatoes entirely, eating very little bread, and have been drinking very little water or other liquid.

You have tried to move your body around more, have done no sleeping during the day, and only seven hours at night.

Your weight loss has been gradual but not rapid enough to suit you.

You expected to lose from five to ten pounds a month, and find that the pounds. You have perhaps wondered why you did not lose weight more rapidly because your neighbor, who is following about the same system, has reduced considerably more than you have been able to do.

What's the matter?

Well it is hard to say very often because there are all types of bodies, with tissues that will take on or lose fat, in varying degrees, during the same length of time.

However, there is just one point that you may have overlooked.

You have felt, that as you were doing without the fats and starches, that you had a perfect right, in fact it would be wise indeed, to eat more meat to make up a full meal each time.

Now generally speaking meat doesn't put on weight as does fats, liquids or starches, but it does put on fat just the same.

For instance a piece of meat or the white of egg—protein—are used to repair tissue that is worn out in the body.

If you work hard physically, or play hard, then the worn out parts of your body will be replaced by the material made up from meat or white of eggs. Just as much of your body tissues as you wear out will be thus replaced.

If you eat more meat than is necessary to repair the worn out tissue what happens to this extra amount you eat?

Does it get thrown out of the body as waste?

No! As a matter of fact, it actually helps to increase your weight by manufacturing fat, which is deposited in your tissues.

You use the meat that is not used for tissue building is turned into glucose or sugar, and then like any other sugar or starch it is then converted into fat.

Remember a good general rule in reducing is to cut down all your foods and handle twenty five per cent.

And don't forget that the extra meat—the meat required for body repair, can become fat, just the same as the regular starchy foods.

Pieces of the guns, Hispanolis Orange Pekoe tea in clean, tightly covers, carefully blended, and free from all impurities. It's healthful, invigorating and refreshing. advt 2t

THE NEXT BIG QUESTION BEFORE CONGRESS

TWENTY AND THIRTY YEARS AGO

Days of Old Recalled by Items Clipped from The Star Files.

May 21, 1904.

The town assessors, J. Henry Potter, Albert B. Webster and Morris Ackley, have commenced their annual round of the town, making the assessment roll.

The Oneonta Telephone company has engaged Miss Mabel A. DeVan of Utica for the position of chief operator at the exchange here, succeeding Miss Myrtle Fisher, who has resigned to take effect June 15.

Judge Robinson of Hornellsville, recently elected grand master of the grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of New York state, has announced his appointments and among them is that of Hon. N. P. Willis of Cooperstown, the present popular surrogate of Otsego county, as district deputy grand master for this, the Eighteenth Masonic district, comprising the counties of Otsego and Schoharie.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees last evening President Bowdish suggested that it was time that the village took steps in the matter of securing a police justice or recorder. He said that there is much petty litigation; that citizens are called as jurors on insignificant cases of drunkenness, etc.; and that a considerable saving would be effected in the costs of maintaining the justice's court.

May 20, 1904.

As Barnum's circus will occupy grounds near the foot of Fonda avenue, the street cars will undoubtedly do a large business next Saturday.

The new pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Rev. R. L. Warnock, is making a very favorable impression upon his people. He is a graduate of Allegheny college.

Rita's superior musical trio is rendering some delightful music about town. Saturday evening they entertained the members of the Oneonta club at the latters' rooms in the Wilber block.

The opening event at the Oneonta Wheel club grounds will be the New York state circuit races on June 7, at which the five-mile state championship race will be run.

NOT MADE IN GERMANY

All Poppies Sold This Year for Benefit of Veterans' Mountain Camp Are Made at Home.

According to an announcement by Dr. Samuel Lloyd, president of the Veterans' Mountain camp of the American Legion, all the poppies to be sold this year in the annual poppy drive conducted by the Legion for the benefit of the camp have been made in New York city by an American manufacturer who employs a number of ex-service men.

"Last year rumors were circulated that the poppies sold in the sale for the benefit of the camp were made in Germany," said Dr. Lloyd. "To allay any fears and to forestall such a malicious rumor this year I think it best to inform the general public through the press of the state that the poppies used in this drive were not made in Germany but were manufactured here in New York city."

The annual poppy drive this year will take place the week preceding Decoration day and, according to the committee in charge of the drive, the sale so far has reached far greater proportions at this time than in any previous year. Over 625,000 poppies have been ordered to date and the wreaths, which are an innovation and which make their initial appearance, have taken very well. The wreath of poppies is similar to the holly wreath around Christmas time and the idea of buying a poppy wreath on Decoration day, the same as one buys a holly wreath on Christmas day, has met with widespread approval.

SMALLEY BUYS PAVILION.

Adds Hickory Grove to His Growing String of Amusement Places.

William C. Smalley, proprietor of the Smalley string of theatres and dance pavilions, has added the Hickory Grove pavilion at Six Mile point on Otsego lake to his string, having purchased the place recently. Mr. Smalley now operates the Cooperstown and Hickory Grove pavilions, the Rialto pavilion at Fort Plain and another whose purchase will be announced at a later date.

Mr. Smalley has let the contract to enlarge the Cooperstown pavilion and plans to make this popular dance hall the largest in this part of the state. Through his operation of four large pavilions Mr. Smalley will now be in a position to secure and support dance music of the finest character.

Not Hiram's Year.

Smashed in the middle west, ignored in the mountain country, beaten in the east and outraced in the north, Hiram Johnson was routed in his own state strongholds. It was an ignominious finish to a campaign that was to be no less than a second Armageddon.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Now is the time to buy your garden seeds. Palmer's grocery is the place. advt 2t

LOCAL MENTION

—P. Ralph Chambers, local manager of the New York State Gas & Electric corporation, will address his fellow Rotarians at the weekly luncheon on Thursday, discussing interesting points concerning his business.

—Former post, Grand Army of the Republic, will be entertained at luncheon at the Elks' club this noon by the Kiwanis club. Dr. A. H. Brownell will welcome the guests of honor, and patriotic songs will be sung.

—Harry Miller and his uncle, Ellsworth Eckerson, motored to New York city on Saturday and will return on Tuesday evening as Mr. Eckerson is anxious to complete the repairs which he is making to his home, shingling it completely and repairing the interior.

—Yesterday Fred Crouch of this city made his re-appearance in the uniform of the Oneonta police department, although his appointment to the force took place several days ago. Citizens generally and other members of the force will welcome his return.

—Several members of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce attended the Delhi Kiwanis luncheon held yesterday, at which Secretary E. J. MacEwan was the speaker. Mr. MacEwan presented in forceful and interesting manner some of the functions of a small Chamber of Commerce, an address which was much appreciated.

LADY ANN AZGAPETIAN.

Distinguished Armenian Woman to Speak in Oneonta on Near East Relief.

Miss. Dorothy Meadows of New Yor city, a well known dramatic reader and critic, and at present a representative of the New York Near East Relief offices, was in Oneonta yesterday arranging for the appearance in this city at a later date of Lady Ann Azgapetian, who will speak in the interests of the Red Cross work in the Near East.

The speaker is a distinguished Armenian who was educated in the United States and speaks English fluently. She served with her husband, who was an Armenian general, with the Red Cross as a nurse. Her little daughter was born behind the lines during the World war, in a Russian Red Cross hut. Later she went through the Russian revolution and endured six months of famine in Petrograd.

Lady Ann comes to America, and specificially to Oneonta, in behalf of the Armenian mothers, bringing a story of hope and gratitude, as a direct message to the women of America. She will speak at the Normal school on Monday, June 9, and will remain for a week in the city in behalf of the Near East relief, speaking before various organizations as plans are perfected; and at the First Methodist church on Sunday, June 15.

They expressed themselves last evening as having enjoyed immensely their work in Oneonta. It is certain that all who worked under their direction enjoyed the contact with their charming personalities and the best wishes of many friends here for their continued success will accompany them.

Dare Not Wear Good Clothes.

In Russia, people who have money dare not wear good clothes in public, as the government arrests them and takes their money away from them. In this country, I safely help people to have money by making small amounts grow to millions of dollars, at six per cent compound interest, and which is made safe by state laws and supervision. When you get discontented and want to cuss, just put on your thinking cap and thank God that you live in America, where you can safely use my safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association and wear good clothes. ANOTHER BIG SUCCESS

Wetmuskus Wedding Again Plays to Crowded House — Most Successful Amateur Production in History of City.

It is one thing to attain success; it is quite another to maintain it. Oneonta Rotary and Kiwanis clubs have done that very thing, however, reaching a high level of success in their production of the Wetmuskus Wedding at the Oneonta theatre on Monday evening and not only maintaining that success but adding to its luster in the second performance of the farce comedy last evening. Again the house was packed, this time to the point where people had to be turned away, and again the audience was pleased beyond measure at what it saw and heard. No amateur production ever staged in Oneonta has played to more people and none has been more enthusiastically received.

Minor mistakes which developed in the first performance had been corrected and the production moved along in faultless fashion last evening. So intent was each performer upon his particular job that call boys and cue sheets were unnecessary. Every song, every dance and every bit of acting of whatever nature was cleverly executed and often almost professional perfection was reached.

It would be unfair to pick out any particular person or group of persons for individual praise. Every man and every boy and girl in the cast did his or her part in entirely praiseworthy fashion and all should share in the honor and glory which attaches to a good job well done.

Just how much the clubs made for the day nursery and girls' dormitory, for whose benefit the two performances were given, could not be ascertained last evening but it is certain that a sum sufficient to establish the venture was realized. It is certain that at the prices established, which were exceptionally low for the quality of the production, no more money could have been made, for the house was crowded to capacity both nights. From the financial standpoint alone is was the most successful amateur venture ever put across here.

To all, who contributed in any way toward the success of the productions abundant credit is due. The Rotarians and Kiwanians, who comprised most of the cast, are all of them busy men and it was at no small sacrifice that some of them were able to take part. All did willingly what was asked of them and that the show was put on with but four rehearsals speaks well of their devotion to the task in hand. It takes not a little moral courage for dignified men to play the fool in public but no one whimpered on that account. The young men not members of the clubs and the young women who took part were cheerful in their consent to help the good cause along and were indefatigable in their work.

The committee members to whom fell the job of doing the multitudinous tasks essential to the success of the venture fulfilled every detail of their assignments and although the approbation of the audience was not their lot yet their work will not be forgotten. Especial mention should be made of the labors of the general chairmen, who gave much time and thought to every detail and to whose efforts the success of the play is in large measure due. His name is withheld in accordance with an agreement made with him yesterday in his insurance office at 8 Broad street.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETS

CITY MAY ESCAPE HEAVY FINE JUDGMENT OF $5,000 RECOVERED AWARDED, SAYS ATTORNEY

City Attorney Huntington Also Declares Licensing of Magazine Subscription Solicitors Illegal—Matter of Minor Importance Constitutes Majority of Business of Session.

That either a reduction of the verdict or an order for a new trial in the action of Dorothy Gould against the city of Oneonta for negligence, in which a jury at the last term of supreme court awarded the plaintiff $5,000, may be expected was the opinion expressed by City Attorney Frank C. Huntington at the regular meeting of the Common Council last evening. In case neither of those eventualities occurs Mr. Huntington advised an appeal, stating that he believed that the appellate division, viewing the case simply on its merits, would render a verdict favorable to the city.

The action arose following an accident more than a year ago in which Miss Gould was injured when the car in which she was riding struck a depression in the pavement on Main street near East End and slewed into a trolley car. Mr. Huntington stated that there are hundreds of similar depressions on the streets of every city and that it has been ruled several times that the existence of a depression as shallow as the one which caused the accident does not constitute negligence on the part of the municipality.

Henry Peebles appeared before the council and asked permission to erect a lunch room on Fonda avenue in the street near the foot viaduct over the D. & H. tracks. His request was refused on the ground that public necessity does not compel the use of the street for such a purpose.

Harry D. Wheeler also appeared and asked that the previous action of the council in refusing permission to J. A. Dewar to install a gasoline pump on city property at the curb in front of the garage built by him and now owned by Mr. Wheeler, be rescinded and permission be granted. The request was refused, the council considering that no good reason existed for changing their previous action, taken after due consideration of the matter.

The Franklin Motor Sales company was granted permission to place tanks and pumps on their property at 80 Main street, the old Gloversville Knitting company factory. The pumps will be back from the curb and the traffic situation at that dangerous corner will not be made worse inasmuch as motorists will have to drive inside the walk to fill.

Bids for the coal required for city buildings during the coming fall and winter were opened and read but no award will be made until the next meeting of the council. The companies submitting bids were the Scranton Coal and Supply company, Harry Butts, Oneonta Coal and Supply company, Oneonta Ice and Fuel company, Fort Washington Coal company and the Onondaga Coal company, the latter two concerns being represented by R. J. Thorne of 406 Chestnut street, Oneonta.

Peddlers' Act Illegal.

City Attorney Huntington reported that in his opinion the peddlers' license ordinance, insofar as it applies to magazine subscription solicitors is illegal inasmuch as it violates the section of the United States constitution forbidding the regulation of interstate commerce by the several states. Some weeks ago a subscription solicitor protested against taking out a license and subsequent investigation disclosed that the United States supreme court has made several rulings attacking the validity of local ordinances requiring such licenses. The fee of $7.50 was ordered remitted to the man and at a later meeting the ordinance will probably be revised.

Attorney Huntington also reported on the meeting of city attorneys with the attorney general of the state in regard to the action in New York city to raise telephone rates which he attended recently. The New York Telephone company is asking for an increase in rates in New York city and has secured an injunction from a federal court restraining the Public Service commission from enforcing the present schedule. It was the opinion of the meeting that the company was simply entering a wedge which might later result in a statewide raise of rates and it was decided to back the state authorities in their fight against the raise.

It was moved to pay the bank tax refund of $10,800, the tax having been declared unconstitutional. It was also moved to ask permission from the state custodian of records for the destruction of certain useless records now encumbering the files in the city offices.

ANNUAL O. H. S. CONCERT

Operetta by Academy Street Primary Grades and Concert by Musical Club of High School Friday Night.

Preparations are nearing completion for the annual concert of Oneonta High school, which will be held in the school auditorium Friday evening, and indications are that the entertainment this year is to be the most elaborate and finished which has ever been produced. Work on the program was started several months ago, and for the last few weeks intensive rehearsals have been held, all of which have shown a notable improvement over previous ones.

Tickets are now on sale by students of the school and while the demand thus far has not been heavy, still a very good attendance is anticipated. It it urged that tickets be secured as soon as possible.

The program for the concert has been divided into two parts, the first an operetta by the primary grades of the Academy Street school; the second a concert by the musical clubs of the High school department.

The operetta to be given is "On a May Day Morning, Early," by Margaret J. McElroy, a one-act spring piece very well adapted to students of the first six grades. The plot centers around a churlish old gardener who objects to the young people's gathering any of his flowers. He is brought to trial before the queen and made to see the error of his ways. The dialogue has spirit, humor and sentiment, and the songs are of a particularly appealing nature.

The concerts by the High School Musical clubs have come to be an event in the city, the quality of their work and the natural interest in local High school students always proving attractive. This year an exceptionad program has been arranged by Miss Mable Perry, supervisor of music for the city schools, under whose direction the entire entertainment is produced, and the boys and girls choruses as well as combination and solo numbers are certain to prove entertaining as well as instructive to those interested in the work of the schools.

Saturday Hike for "Y" Boys.

Members of the "Y" Boys' department will take another hike on Saturday afternoon, leaving the association building at 9:30 o'clock. The boys who were out last Saturday with Secretary Holmes as leader, took a very enjoyable tramp toward Otego, and at noon halted for a lunch and some games, a nice field being chosen. They arrived home at 5 o'clock.

The Boys' secretary, Mr. Holmes, would like to hear from any parents who have sons they desire to join the Boys' band. Seventeen have already made application and Mr. Holmes would be pleased to add any boy willing to give his time and attention to the band.

ONE CENT SALES ANNOUNCED

At Liggett and Hutson's Drug Stores Commencing Tomorrow.

The Liggett and Hutson drug stores are conducting One Cent sales commencing tomorrow and continuing on Friday and Saturday. These sales are quite distinctive with drug stores carrying Rexall remedies and goods and have always proven popular. The plan in brief is that you buy one article at its regular everyday price and obtain another of the same article at one cent additional.

Each store is announcing a special line of goods and they are always articles needed in the household that are included in the One Cent sale, and even though a person may not need but one of the articles he or she may combine with a neighbor and thus each secure two or more articles needed at about half price.

These feature sales are conducted only twice each year, each sale continuing for three days. The prices are possible only because the articles are manufactured in large quantities by Rexall or Liggett factories and are sold at the very low prices at these vertising value and the fact that they attract new customers to the stores.

Incidentally they aid business generally, as they attract new customers from the wide area in which The Star circulates and merchants in other lines reap a substantial benefit. An announcement of Mr. Hutson appears in this issue and that of Liggett's store in The Star of Thursday.

DEATHS

Charles E. Conklin.

Charles E. Conklin, a former resident of the town of Oneonta, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home at East Sidney. He had been ill only since the preceding night.

Mr. Conklin was born on July 20, 1848, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Conklin. Most of his life was spent at Downsville, Delaware county. About nine years ago he came to make his home with his nephew, John A. Conklin of the Oneonta Plains, and moved to East Sidney but a year ago. He had never married and the only near relatives are nephews and nieces.

The funeral will be held at 1 p. m. on Thursday, from the home of his nephew, John A. Conklin, on the Plains, with Rev. Philip M. Luther of the Lutheran Church of the Atonement officiating. Interment will be made in the Plains cemetery.

Golf on Memorial Day.

Two golf contests are announced for the Country club on Memorial day, the usual opening date, the Millards having yielded to a popular demand have made provision for serving meals a couple of weeks in advance.

The contest for men will be a handicap match and all desiring to participate are requested to enroll on blanks posted at the club. For the ladies it is anticipated that there will be a match for foursomes. Prizes will be offered and no doubt there will be the usual interest in the matches. The Millards will arrange especially attractive menus for those who desire to have luncheon or dinner or both at the club.

Decoration Day is very close at hand. One week from next Friday—and you should remember that flowers are always in great demand about that time. Why not let us book your order right now? Call 79-W, while you have it in mind, then you will not be disappointed in getting just what you want. We will have abundance of cut flowers and potted plants. Still everybody will want them, and why not place your order early? 79-W is our phone number. Derrick, florist. Theatre building. advt tf

Flaesch, Esq., of Unadilla, left yesterday morning for Albany, where they appeared before the appellate division of the supreme court in the case of Hill vs. VanCott. Mr. Becker represented the defendants-appellant and Mr. Flaesch the plaintiff-respondent.

Card of Thanks.

May I take this method of expressing my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. Cutler, and the staff of physicians, also Mrs. LeChevit, and the nurses who were so patient and good to me during my illness and long sojourn at the Fox Memorial hospital, also to the many friends who remembered me. With sincere love and everlasting gratitude.

Evamelo

I have no wealth of bonds and gold,
As wealth today we score,
Yet I have wealth and wealth untold
For I have friends galore.
I have no wealth in coin or land,
Yet I'm a millionaire,
For I have friends who understand—
True friends, come storm, come fair.
I am not rich in things you buy,
Not rich in things you sell,
Not rich in dollars that soon fly,
And bid you quick farewell;
But I am rich in friends I've made,
True friends of sterling worth;
I wouldn't trade a friend of mine,
For all the gold on earth!
Dear friends of mine, tried pals and true,
You've made my life worthwhile,
All that I am I owe to you,
At trouble I can smile;
God sent you to me through the years
To make me love mankind,
With comfort you have dried my tears,
And to my faults you're blind.
I am unworthy—that is true—
Of your great faith in me,
But when you go there, I'll go too,
To spend eternity;
No man has penned a truer line,
Since this old world knew birth—
I wouldn't trade a friend of mine
For all the gold on earth.

Do Not Overcrowd Your Young Plants

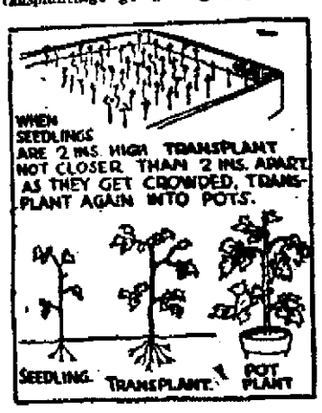

Transplant From Flats to Larger Boxes or Roomy Flower Pots.

Overcrowding, perhaps, is the greatest fault of the average gardener. Because the plants are small when they first appear above ground, he will not space them properly, because they look lonesome with an expanse of bare soil between them. However, they will grow fast, and at maturity will need the space allowed them, and usually are growing into and over each other.

This fault should be corrected when the transplanting is done, or if the seeds are sown in the open ground, by judicious thinning. Follow directions, which are always contained on seed packets as to proper distances, to the letter. Work with a tape measure or yardstick. The crop of many vegetables will be in proportion to the chance they have to develop. The bush lima bean is an excellent object lesson. Many gardeners have given up the bush lima as not being productive enough to justify its space. But give the individual bushes 18 inches apart, so they will have a chance, and there will be a bountiful crop with ordinarily good soil and moisture conditions.

The rule to follow in transplanting seedlings is to move them as soon as the leaves touch. The first transplanting should be done when the first pair of true leaves appear. If they are not placed at sufficient distance, and often it is not convenient to do so at this time, because of lack of space indoors or in the hotbed, be prepared to move them when the developing leaves touch. If you do not, they will begin to spindle in the struggle to reach the sunlight.

The percentage of loss is greater as the plants attain size, but early transplantings go a long way to obviate this loss by developing strong fibrous root systems, especially in the case of plants which, undisturbed, form tap roots, or a long root that goes straight down some distance before giving off branches. When this long root has developed far the plant receives a severe check on being transplanted, from which it takes a long time to recover.—National Garden Bureau.

SPRAYING TREES

Spray fruit trees with arsenate of lead and bordeaux mixture first, as the buds swell; second, when the blossoms show their characteristic color; and third, as the last of the petals are falling.

GARDEN TOOLS

The first cost of garden tools is of minor consideration. The care they are given and the years of usefulness is the all important factor.

A MAN WHO BECAME FAMOUS

Doctor R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, was not only a successful physician but also a profound student of the medicinal qualities of Nature's remedies, roots and herbs, and by close observation of the methods used by the Indians, he discovered their great remedial qualities, especially for weaknesses of women, and after careful preparation succeeded in giving to the world a remedy which has been used by women with the best results for half a century. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is still in great demand, while many other so called "cure-alls" have come and gone. The reason for its phenomenal success is because of its absolute purity, and Dr. Pierce's high standing as an honored citizen of Buffalo is a guarantee of all that is claimed for the Favorite Prescription as a regulator for the ills peculiar to women.

Rich Woman to Share Her Home With Long-Lost Kin

Boston.—Mrs. Alice M. Gray, a Malden woman, formerly a cook at Miss Wheelock's school in the Back Bay, is the central figure in a romance that sounds like a movie thriller.

Mrs. Gray, who is more than fifty years old, was left an orphan when very young. She and her two sisters were sent to a home and afterward separated among different families.

After she grew up she could get no trace of her sisters.

Years passed until finally one day last month a friend told her of seeing an advertisement in a Boston paper for news of her. She replied and found the advertiser was a woman in California. Mrs. Gray had no difficulty in placing the California woman as her sister.

This sister had become extremely wealthy and the possessor of a beautiful estate at 9071 Selma avenue, Hollywood.

She wired a sum of money to Mrs. Gray so that she could go to California. In the meantime the other missing sister had been located by the California relative and the three, long separated, are to live together in the mansion.

MAIL PILOT FINDS NEW ALASKA ROUTE

Flyer, Lost in Arctic Darkness Cuts Time 16 Days

Washington.—Lost in an airplane in the utter darkness of an Alaskan night, without a star above or a light below to guide him, was the experience of Carl B. Eielson, air mail pilot, on his first trip over an experimental route between Fairbanks and McGrath, Alaska, according to his report received recently by Postmaster General New.

So interesting was the report of Eielson's adventure that the postmaster general read it at cabinet meeting and President Coolidge wrote a personal letter to the air mail pilot congratulating him. Accompanying this letter went a similar one from Mr. New.

"I congratulate you on the conspicuous success of your undertaking," the President said. "Your experience provides a unique and interesting chapter in the rapidly developing science of aerial navigation."

Eielson made the first leg of his trip from Fairbanks to McGrath without mishap. He began the return trip at 2:33 p. m.

"I expected," Eielson said in his report, "to get home by 5:10 p. m., at dusk. In one hour and fifteen minutes later I reached Lake Minchumina, which is nearly half way. Later I passed over a stream which was not on the map and I thought it must be the Kantishna river. Still later I reached this stream, but thought it was the Tanana river.

"To the left I saw a bluff which looked like 'ice Mission bluff.' I struck for the 'bluff' and everything was all right except that the town of Nenana was not in its place. By this time it was plain dark. I could not believe that I had got 30 miles off my course after the same compass course had brought me half way exactly on the course. I left the river, going east.

"I wandered around completely lost for most of an hour. I went back to the big river and, while following it, saw a flare in the distance. I hit for it and it turned out to be my home field. There was a light in front of the hangar."

Among the letters brought from McGrath by Eielson was one addressed to Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general. This letter arrived in Washington 16 days earlier than it could have had the first stage of its journey been made by dog team.

Baby Held by Hospital for Bill Given to Mother

Chicago.—A writ of habeas corpus restored Eleanor Nodine, fourteen months old, to her mother after the baby had been held in a hospital on orders of the physician for a $215 bill contracted during treatment for pneumonia.

The mother, earning $20 a week, was unable to pay the bill at once, and the physician refused to permit the child to leave before settlement was made.

Superior Judge David issued the writ and named a temporary custodian.

New Camera Can Take Movies of Cannon Ball

Washington.—Moving pictures of projectiles in flight can be taken with a camera developed at the bureau of standards. It has been used for studying the effect of the blast on the projectiles. This blast is formed by the gases in the gun which are ejected with great velocity as soon as the projectile leaves the muzzle. It completely surrounds the projectile during the first few feet of its flight, and with large guns its force is enormous.

The camera can make 250 pictures a second, but several thousand could be taken by increasing the number of lenses.

It is believed this camera can determine the velocity of a projectile after it has passed through armor plate. Ordinary methods cannot be used because of the flying particles of armor, but the camera can be protected.

Is cigarette taste changing?

On May 2nd we sent this wire to every one of our salesmen throughout the country.

What's back of this big shift? Why are men changing by thousands?

Note—If you have not read the telegram above, please glance through it.

Looking out from behind the scenes

BIG EVENTS happen rarely in the cigarette business—yet.

But if today you were "behind the scenes," you could sit and watch a thing going on that—in a mild way perhaps—might open any man's eyes.

The Man in the Street, the average smoker, is hardly aware that anything's happening.

He might chance to notice that Smith has changed to another cigarette. Or, sitting with a group, it might occur to him that three or four of them have "switched"—quite lately.

No—there's nothing spectacular about it.

But when every small brook starts to rise, there's a big flood in the river—and "flood" is exactly the word to describe this thing we are talking about.

What is it that is happening?

The thing that is happening is simply that, for months now, an average of over one thousand men EVERY DAY in this country (1,000 every day—think of it!) are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

• • •

Is cigarette taste changing? We don't know. But we do know that smokers are changing—over 150,000 have changed to Chesterfield since New Year's Day.

Nothing to get excited about, of course; but not a thing quite to ignore either—if you are interested in "what's what" in smoking.

Why are these men changing? Is it Chesterfield's exceptional tobaccos, the fortunate blend, the unusual freedom from "sweetening," or what? Perhaps you don't care.

Perhaps the only thing you care about is "How do they TASTE?" All right. When it comes to that, Chesterfields—if you give them the chance—will tell their own story (and prove it!) in a far better way than we can.

Such popularity must be deserved

London's "Yellow Spider" Caught in Own Web of Great Drug-Peddling System

By Milton Bronner.

(NEA Service Staff Correspondent)

London, May 20.—Like a vicious yellow spider for seven long prosperous years Brilliant Chan alias Chan Nam, set in an obscure room in Limehouse Causeway and spun his webs baited with cocaine to catch the poor white flies of London's fashionable West End.

Out of the webs Chang drew gold, a fine flat in swell Park Lane, a huge automobile, wine suppers, dances and women.

But the other day, after seven years' patient watching and waiting, Scotland Yard pounced down, tore away all his webs and sendt him to a prison cell for 14 months, after which he will be deported to his native China.

Limehouse Causeway is London's Chinatown—quiet, sinister and secret. Not far away are the great docks where the big ships from the Orient come in. The police suspect that every ship that comes from China has its contraband load of cocaine and opium which "innocent" seamen slip into the hands of guileless looking Chinamen.

One of these was Brilliant Chang, who led two lives. In Limehouse he had an humble flat among his countrymen. Up town he lived the life of a well-to-do man about town, wore stylish clothes, frequented the night clubs, and drank his wine with an air. For he was an educated man, who spoke and wrote English fluently.

He came here originally eight years ago to study chemistry. His people were well-to-do. After a while the war broke down many of the mail and banking facilities between China and England. Chang's remittances from home ceased.

But Chang knew a trick or two. In knocking about the White Light district he had learned there was a ready market for "coke" and "dope." He quietly organized a business. Personally he never used the drug, and never had a drop of it in his clothes. He had Chinese, negro and white tools to sell the stuff.

Out of his huge profits he led a life of ease. At the night clubs he came into contact with the women [illegible] When they were tired or fagged or blue, he told them how "coke" would buck them up. He even obliged by telling them how they could get it. He thus extended the roll of his customers.

Everything went well with him until one day in 1921 pretty Freda Kempton, an instructor in dancing, was found dead in her flat. Cocaine had done it. And it was shown she had been a close friend of Chang. She had been a regular patron at a restaurant he had opened. He was a prominent witness at the inquest, but the police couldn't pin anything on him.

But they watched him so closely that he closed his restaurant, gave up his Park Lane flat and went to live in Limehouse altogether. The police were baffled.

But a couple of weeks ago a pretty girl named Violet Payne was seen in a Pennyfields "pub" acting queerly. The police questioned her, took her to the station, had her searched and found cocaine. She readily agreed to help the authorities. She told them she got the drug from Chang and told how the customers put their money through a chink in a back fence and in turn got a packet of "coke," neither the customer nor the vendor seeing each other. That was enough. Scotland Yard pounced upon Chang, searched his flat, and behind a loose panel in his kitchen found some of the drug. He had come to the end of his string.

VIOLET PAYNE, WHOSE TESTIMONY TRAPPED BRILLIANT CHANG (BELOW), LONDON'S "YELLOW SPIDER"

SCALLOP FISHING OFF LONG ISLAND

Captain and Members of Crew Share in Catch.

New York.—Sea fishing, one of the first occupations of mankind, is in some respects still conducted primitively. When civilization had reached the stage making it possible for two men to work together it is likely they agreed to share equally in the profits of their efforts. This distribution of the proceeds of labor still prevails in many branches of the fishing industry.

Small boats go out daily, weather permitting, from Freeport, Baldwin, Bayshore and other points along the south shore of Long Island, manned by crews of from three to six men, every one of whom has an equal interest in the day's catch. The only union rules these men recognize are those of custom, tradition and fair play.

"Split" the Profits.

The usual "split" of the profits is a share for the boat and a share each for every member of the crew. If the skipper owns the boat he gets the boat's share and a man's share, no more.

This is the basis on which most of the small-boat scallop fishing is done in waters hereabout. It is a profitable industry, profitable in proportion to the capital invested and the labor involved. But, like all fishing, it is seasonable and dependent in a measure upon that element of luck which enters into fishing the world over.

Not even the most experienced fisherman can tell where he is likely to find scallops in paying qualities, but once he does find them his reward is greater on the average than in that of any other kind of fishing. Early this spring scallops brought as high as $5 a gallon to the fisherman. Catches of from fifty to sixty gallons a day were not uncommon, although the usual catch was around twenty-five gallons. Even at twenty gallons a day it paid well.

Scalloping is, strictly speaking, dredging, not fishing. The boats leave Freeport, say, so as to reach the dredging grounds by sunrise.

The fishing grounds most in favor just now lie along the ten-fathom curve (a government chart line showing the depth of water off shore) toward Anglers' bank, south of Jones' Inlet, and off Asbury Park, some six miles out.

There are no surface indications for fishermen to follow in searching for scallops. The shellfish must be dragged from their beds on the bottom of the ocean. Since the drag is attached to the boat and must be lowered into the water, pulled along and then hoisted aboard, there is a limit to the depth at which it is profitable to work.

Boats used for scalloping are equipped with a wooden boom swinging out at right angles to the side of the craft from a mast amidship. From one end of this boom hangs the drag. [illegible] closed in an iron frame in the shape of a scoop. It is from five to eight feet long and from three to five feet wide, according to the size of the vessel and the power developed by her engine. The drag is lowered and raised by ropes running through blocks and leading to a donkey engine on deck. Some boats drag over the stern, pulling the scoop along behind them.

Sea Scallop the Best.

A "drag," as the process of dragging the scoop over the bottom of the sea is called, takes up about forty-five minutes in time, and wonderful to behold are some of the catches. At times lobsters, fish in great variety but small in quantity, tin cans, broken bottles, bits of wreckage are brought up, in addition to scallops.

The sea scallop is considerably larger and is esteemed more highly than the bay or cultivated scallop, and for these reasons it brings a higher price in the open market. It is circular in shape, flat and from five to eight inches across its largest diameter. A little more than three bushels of shell will produce a gallon of "scallops" familiar to the housewife.

The scallop market is subject to fluctuations, depending upon the old law of supply and demand. The year around fisherman will average three dollars a gallon for their catch.

Norway to Celebrate 900 Years of Christianity

Christiania.—The nine hundredth anniversary of the official establishment of Christianity in Norway is to be celebrated during June.

It was in the year 1024 that the first acceptance of Christian doctrines and their embodiment in the religious laws took place at the little stone church of Moster, situated on an island in the sea channel between Haugesund and Bergen.

The anniversary will be accompanied by many festivities and ceremonies of historical interest, and it is expected that the king of Norway will attend.

"Toby M. P." Bequeaths Cigars in Own Memory

London.—In the will of late Sir Henry Lucy, for many years the famous "Toby M. P." of Punch, a provision is made that at the annual dinners of the Punch staff a box of cigars is to be passed to the guests to be smoked in memory of the donor. The will sets aside $500 to be invested and used for this purpose.

Sir Henry left many bequests to hospitals and charities in memory of various relatives. The estate is valued at more than $1,000,000.

Missouri River Longest

The Missouri river is not only the longest river in the United States, but it is the longest river in the world. Its actual length in miles is 4,194, and the Amazon, the next longest, which traverses Brazil in South America, is 3,944 miles. The Hoang-Ho in China and the Murray in Australia rank next, with 3,000 miles each. The Mississippi, often thought of as the greatest of all rivers, is in reality only 2,616 miles long.

HARKEN YE, AMBITIOUS WIVES!

A husband's advice to his wife on how to succeed is often startling to the wife. Sometimes it betrays astonishing ignorance. In which case, may it be that husband is blind in the near eye? Or that wife's methods, like those of high-powered machinery, are unusually quiet in action? Judge for yourself in the case of Helen S. Wright of Pittsfield, Mass.

Charles Wright, Republican district attorney, was up for re-election last November. Democratic sentiment was [illegible] an fathers, dangerously strong. Many conservative women, nominally Republican, had never voted. An invitation came—never mind how—to Mrs. Wright to speak to, and perhaps organize these women.

"You'd better write out your talk, let me criticize it, and then help you learn to deliver it," the husband volunteered. "You know even a few women's votes may count this time!"

"I'll speak better extemporaneously," was the reply which sent a worried gentleman to this meeting and a less worried but much puzzled one to many others.

The 5,000 majority given Mr. Wright was conceded to be the woman's vote! A scant 500 in this district saved Senator Lodge, whom Mrs. Wright did not campaign for. Years ago when her son was well started in school, a civic movement needing money interested her. She was well educated, accurate and a successful housekeeper. Out of just these moderate gifts, if one is to believe her, grew her attempt at a cookbook of the best recipes of the best housewives of Pittsfield. The book was published. It was well done. It made money. She could—after a fashion, at least—write.

Next came a collection of dolls quaintly and accurately dressed in costumes of past ages. The collection, presented to women's clubs, taught her to meet audiences. All this so without fuss or feathers, she has told me, that her busy husband never missed her. At present many women's organizations seek Mrs. Wright for lectures. The great publishing house of MacMillan asks for [illegible] of her books. "Who's Who" lists her among the famous, and politicians high in office seek her advice on party plans.

Largest Swimming Pool.

San Francisco has a new swimming pool which is said to be the largest in the world. It is 1,000 feet long and 100 feet wide, except for a center portion which is 300 feet wide to provide for a racing course across the pool. The depth varies from 3 to 14 feet and the cost of the pool was $80,000.

Quite Modern.

About 1882 Marcel Depres, a French engineer and pioneer electrician, succeeded in transmitting electric power by telegraph wire between Munich and Miesbach, thirty-five miles. This is considered the first successful experiment in long-distance transmission.

MARRIED AT LAKE DELAWARE

Miss Marjorie Lee Becomes Bride of Merrill Meighan, Electrical Engineer of Chicago, Their Future Home—Novel Shower to Bride-to-Be.

Delhi, May 20. — Miss Marjorie Lee of Lake Delaware, daughter of J. B. Lee, was maried Saturday, May 17, at St. James' church, the beautiful new Episcopal church at Lake Delaware, to Merrill Meighan, an electrical engineer of Chicago, in which city their home will be. Rev. O. Edgelow, rector of St. James', performed the ceremony. The bride, a former student at Delaware academy, has been successfully engaged in teaching for several years past. She is a most estimable young lady and she will have the sincere wishes of all her acquaintances for a happy married life.

Academy Alumni to Assemble.

Rev. Marvin J. Thompson of Troy, president of the Delaware academy alumni association, is already busy on plans for the annual reunion and dinner of the association to be held here on Friday night of commencement week, June 27. He has appointed Principal H. B. Arthur, Mrs. George Becker, Glenn Harper and Miss Grace Robinson a committee to make arrangements for the dinner.

Approaching Weddings Rumored.

"Dame Rumor," the gossipy old gal, is authority for the statement that there will be two church weddings in Delhi in early June, both brides to be "married off" and go to new homes elsewhere.

Novel Shower to Bride-to-Be.

The regular monthly meeting of the Westminister guild of the Second Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. T. C. Bookhout on Monday evening. The business of the evening was transacted, following which Mrs. Margaret Harper entertained the crowd by giving a "Trip Around the World," which consisted of different stunts as one journeyed from the different countries, and which stunts were greatly enjoyed.

The last stunt was fortune telling and all were escorted to the large dining room blind-folded. Each person was allowed to remove the covering from her head with the exception of a fair young lady who is to become a June bride, Miss Gertrude Stoddard. Before she was allowed to remove her head covering the room was lighted and when the covering was taken off she beheld a beautiful May pole standing in the center of the table and at the end of each streamer was a token of the love, friendship and high esteem with which she is held not only by her guild sisters but by the whole community. Banking the May pole was a mass of spring flowers presenting a scene which is seldom equaled. Miss Stoddard, although overcome with surprise, proved herself equal to the occasion and carefully unwrapped the tokens which consisted of silver, china, linen, etc.

Ice cream with strawberries and cake were served by the hostess and all joined in wishing Miss Stoddard many happy years of wedded life.

Miss Stoddard will become the bride of Bruce Lowry of Syracuse in June and will make her home in Portland, Me.

Rector Addresses Students.

In the assembly hall at Delaware academy yesterday morning the students listened to an instructive and entertaining talk by Rev. H. C. John-son, rector [illegible]. Monday morning Frank M. Farrington will address the assembled student body.

County Christian Endeavors Meet.

The County Christian Endeavor society held a meeting in the Second Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon and evening with a splendid representation from the different towns in the county. Delhi seemed to be the only town that was not fairly represented.

Mr. Sherwood from New York was the principal speaker and gave some very interesting facts concerning the Endeavor [illegible].

Supper was served to the delegates in the dining room of the church at 6 o'clock and a neat little sum was realized. This supper was in charge of the Ladies' Missionary society.

Personal.

Miss Elizabeth Roberts, who is located here as child welfare agent for Delaware county, was a recent guest of her friend, Miss Bertha Marx, at Andes.

County Judge and Surrogate Andrew J. McNaught passed an unusually busy day at his chambers in the court house at Delhi on Monday. The surrogate's court matters were practically doubled and several county court matters were argued before him.

During the afternoon the probate of the will of Mary J. Drummond, late of the town of Andes, came before Judge McNaught. Andrew F. Fenton of Margaretville appeared for the executor, Harry W. Drummond, and Hamilton J. Hewitt of Delhi for the objector Fannie K. Fenton, who is a daughter of the testatrix. A number of witnesses were sworn but no evidence was produced to show incompetency of the testatrix or that undue and improper influence had been exerted upon said testatrix and after some time spent in discussion the will was admitted to probate.

ELOPERS HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

Married, But Not to Each Other —Valuable Goods Are Found on Pair

Rochester, May 20. — They eloped from Hackensack, N. J., one of them another woman's husband, and the other another man's wife. They had $2,000 for the expenses of the elopement honeymoon, it is said, and if they had kept away from department stores, their romance [illegible] ended in city court here Monday when they were arraigned on charges of petit larceny.

Mrs. Marie Kunemann, who wore her golden hair unshingled and unbobbed, and Richard Carmann pleaded not guilty to the charges. They were arrested in a downtown department store, where a floor walker claimed he saw them steal three pairs of gloves. The court set bail at $1,000 each and adjourned the cases to May 29.

When the romantic couple were searched, according to detectives, several thousand dollars worth of clothing, jewelry, and miscellaneous articles was found.

Richard Kunemann, husband of the accused woman, arrived here today and claimed his two children, who had accompanied the mother. He told newspapermen he would be willing to forgive his wife and take her home when she gets out of her present difficulty.

ENAMELING OVEN EXPLODES; ONE MAN DEAD; 15 INJURED

Syracuse, May 20. — One man was killed and at least 15 injured, one of them seriously, when a japanning and enameling oven on the top floor of the eight-story L. C. Smith typewriter plant here exploded late yesterday.

The dead man is Christian Peterson of this city, who was about to light the gas burners under one of the five ovens on the east end of the floor. Standing between a window and one of the ovens, he was blown into the air, and hurled about 200 feet to the roof of a dwelling near the factory.

The workman most seriously injured was Fred Bauer, also of Syracuse, who was rushed to a hospital, but whose condition is not critical. Edward Burritt, another workman, suffered severe shock and was treated at the hospital, but did not receive bodily inuries. All of the other employes who were injured were treated in the factory first aid room and went home without aid.

SIX KILLED IN TROLLEY CRASH

Roanoke, Ind., May 20. — Six persons were killed and approximately 30 injured when two passenger cars of the Indiana Service Traction company were in collision at a siding here last night.

HOME—

How much will you pay for safety, for permanence, for comfort?

Portland Cement, the material making this possible, is the cheapest of all products undergoing a complete process of manufacture.

A permanent, fire-safe home can be built for from 2% to 5% more than one of impermanent materials. The protection of your investment, the safety of your loved ones, can be assured for a ridiculously small outlay. And such a home is warmer in winter, cooler in summer, and more sanitary the year 'round.

Ask your building material dealer for facts and figures on such construction. Your contractor will also tell you that it is more rapid, as well as safer, than temporary building.

New Youth

For women – new beauty for girls

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I found in France, many years ago, the supreme aids to beauty and to youth. I was a plain girl, and they made me the rage of New York. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, they keep me a beauty still. All who meet me on the stage or elsewhere marvel at my youthful bloom.

I have brought the same results to many. So I know these same helps can bring millions multiplied beauty and perennial youth. Now I have arranged so all who wish may get them. And I am taking time to tell the facts about them.

My White Youth Clay.

This is a white, refined clay, amazing and delightful in results. It has been perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Many of you know what clay does. Even the crude and muddy clays so many try [illegible]. They purge the skin of all that clogs and mars it. They bring a new complexion, rosy, clear and clean. They firm the skin, combat all lines and wrinkles, reduce the pores. You see everywhere the youth and beauty that results from clay.

But my white Youth Clay is vastly more efficient. It is the last word in facial clay. Many women, with one application, seem to drop ten years. The cost is 50 cents and $1.50.

My Youth Cream.

My cold cream was perfected by French experts. I call it my Youth Cream. It combines products of both lemon and strawberry [illegible] to foster the fine texture of the skin.

I use it after the clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. It softens, whitens, feeds and smooths. My Youth Cream costs 60 cents.

I clean my skin with a liquid cleanser, called my Facial Youth. That also is a French creation. The leading beauty experts now employ it, but they charge too high a price.

My Facial Youth contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the refuse comes out with it, all the dirt and grime. You will never know what a clean skin means until you try Facial Youth. The cost is 75 cents.

My Hair Youth.

This is another French creation. It embodies all that aids hair, health and growth. My hair is my greatest glory. It is heavy, thick and lustrous. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray.

I apply Hair Youth with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It removes the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fertilizes. All in one minute daily, without mussing the hair.

My hair shows what Hair Youth does. I would pay for a fortune go without it. It comes to you at little cost—[illegible] cents and $1.50 with eye dropper.

All druggists and toilet counters now supply these very helps I use. They offer each under guarantee. I urge all girls and women to learn how much they mean. No other methods that I know can bring so much of added beauty or continued youth. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

When More Than Time Is Stolen

Procrastination is accused of being the thief of time—guess it's guilty. It does worse things than steal time—it robs people of the greatest happiness in the world—that of living an independently comfortable life when it interferes with owning their homes.

Decide today—we'll show you how to swing the deal.

BATHROOM FIXTURES THAT GIVE A LIFETIME OF SERVICE

Durability is one of the most important requirements of high grade plumbing equipment. The fixtures must withstand years of hard usage and give the utmost in service with a minimum of wear.

Constructed entirely of glistening, pure white, almost unbreakable material, the fixtures that we recommend give years of service without chipping, cracking or crazing. We sell them because they seldom if ever, require repairs.

Our fixtures are also easy to keep clean. Think of the convenience, the comfort, the pride in ownership and the health security that are assured with modern sanitary equipment.

Whether you are planning to build a new or remain in the old home come in and learn why the "first and last cost" quality is the only kind to have in your home.

New York, May 20. — Enactment of the soldier bonus measure over the President's veto brought a flood of selling orders into today's stock market, prices of active shares breaking one to six points at the opening, recovering half their losses before noon and then slipping back again so that closing quotations showed net losses ranging from one to four and one-quarter points.

The break in prices, which was one of the sharpest in many months, naturally resulted in the closing out of a number of weakened marginal accounts, particularly of pools, but there was no widespread liquidation on the part of small investors, total sales running well below 1,000,000 shares.

Thirty-two stocks tumbled to new low prices for the year, including such favorites as United States Steel common at 95, Baldwin at 104⅝, Studebaker at 30⅛, General Motors at 12⅝, Stewart-Warner at 54, Anaconda at 28⅛, DuPont at 112, United States Industrial Alcohol at 61⅝, and United Drug at 73, several of these closing a point or so above their bottom figures on the day. In addition a number of stocks duplicated their previous minimum prices, including American Telephone, which dropped more than two points to 123 on announcement of a $150,000,000 stock issue.

Heavy professional selling of stocks was based on the speculative belief that the soldier bonus measure would be a heavy drain on the United States treasury and would preclude the possibility of any substantial tax relief, thereby having a restraining effect on business. Indications that this belief was not altogether general were seen by some traders in the character of the buying orders that appeared during the day and the absence of heavy liquidation by investors.

Circulation in the financial district of a statement by Senator Smoot that the tax bill would be put in shape by the senate and house conferees so as to gain the President's approval and the appearance of a brisk demand for Chesapeake & Ohio, which touched a new high at 78⅜ started another covering movement just before the close. New Orleans, Texas and Mexico advanced three points to 121⅛, also a new high for the year, in reflection of the declaration of a special cash dividend of 16½ per cent in connection with the acquisition of the control of that road by the Missouri Pacific, but it forfeited two points of its gain on profit taking.

Unsettled by passage of the bonus bill over the President's veto, bond prices today displayed weakness in the early dealings but later recovered most of their losses. Selling pressure at the outcome was concentrated on Liberty bonds, causing recessions of as much as half a point. Quick rallies, however, brought quotations back to near yesterday's closing levels.

Investment bankers were not inclined to fear that the bonus action would have any serious effect on the bond market.

Preparations have been completed by bankers for offering of the New York Central equipment issues, which awaits only the authorization of the road's officials. A $4,000,000 issue of the Federated Metals corporation 15-year 7s will be sold tomorrow at par.

Price changes generally were of little importance today. An advance in Nickle Plate 6s was believed to reflect preparations for an additional bond offering.

New York, May 20. — Transmissions of photographs from Cleveland to New York city over long distance telephone lines was accomplished Monday in a demonstration by laboratory experts of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

The method, achieved after several year's work was described by officials of the company as a "simple, rapid, and rapid picture transmitting system," it will be installed on the company's various long distance lines it was announced, in accordance with the demand which arises for this type of service.

Cleveland was selected as the place for the transmitting station so that pictures taken at the national Republican convention might be transmitted to New York within a few minutes. Actual transmission today showed that photographs could be transmitted to New York and made ready for producing newspaper plates within a-half minutes excluding the time required in developing the original in Cleveland and the few minutes required in developing the print in New York.

TWO HELD, SAID HOLDUPS

ROGER CRANDALL AND JOHN DIVERS CONFESS HOLD-UP NEAR WEST ONEONTA MONDAY NIGHT.

Two Schenectady Men, One Only Ten Months in America from England, on Tour of Historical Place, of New York State, Stage Robbery Near West Oneonta — Arrested by State Troopers.

The first hold-up to have been staged in Otsego county in several years took place near West Oneonta at about 11 o'clock Monday night when Galen Harrison of Butts Corners and Miss Eleanor Johnson of West Laurens, his companion, were stopped by two men about a mile from that village toward Morris and relieved of $10 and a gold watch. State Troopers, who were immediately called on the case, worked all night and at about 8 o'clock yesterday morning Corporal Hofer and Trooper Mangan caught two men near East Guilford, Roger Crandall and John Divers, of Schenectady, the former of whom signed a confession in which full details of the robbery are given, professing that the attempt was only a demonstration to Divers, who has only been in the country about ten months, and formerly a resident of England, of the ease of taking money in this country.

They were arraigned yesterday before Justice of the Peace Harold Carpenter of Cooperstown and held to await the action of the next grand jury on a charge of robbery in the first degree, the penalty for which is up to 20 years.

The interesting portions of the statement of Crandall follow:

"I had an appointment with John Divers, who was working in a restaurant in Schenectady. He, John Divers, and myself started a trip to tour some of the historical places in New York state. Divers came to my house at about 11 or 12 o'clock in the morning and at about 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon of May 19, 1924, Divers and myself left my house. When leaving my house I had two automatic pistols, one rifle and one old Civil war pistol. Divers and myself then started on a trip along the Mohawk trail, as far as Richfield Springs, arriving there at about 6 o'clock in the evening and had supper at the Richfield hotel. We left Richfield Spring at about 7 o'clock in the evening and continued our travel into Oneonta. We did not go as far as we had intended as we (Divers and myself) had started a conversation about different sharpshooters and then started a conversation about different holdup men, and I said to Divers that anybody could do that. Just then a Ford coupe passed us on the highway and Divers and myself made a statement that we would hold the car up and see what we could get out of the occupants. We then started to chase after the car and as we drove up alongside of the Ford coupe, Divers sprang out of my car and jumped onto the running board of the Ford coupe and ordered the driver to stop at the point of an automatic 22-calibre pistol. After both cars came to a standstill Divers ordered the occupants out of the Ford coupe, still keeping them covered with the automatic pistol, and I covering them with a 22-calibre automatic. This holdup was staged about five miles out of Oneonta on the state highway towards Morris. The occupants of said Ford coupe were a man and lady. Divers covered them with the automatic pistol, while I searched the man and took from his person one gold watch and two five-dollar bills. After taking this money and watch we ordered the people to get back into their car and drive on. Divers still covering them with the automatic pistol. Divers and myself then got into my car and I turned the watch and money over to Divers and then drove on. Then I said to Divers, 'Do you see how easy it is to holdup people.' And Divers said to me, 'Do you think we will get caught?' I said, 'I don't know, but I guess we had better return the money and watch to the man.' We then started back to find the man but were unable to locate him. We then drove on about twenty miles from the scene of the holdup and drove off the main highway onto a dirt road, where we stopped the car and slept for the night. We awoke at about 6 o'clock this morning and started along the highway again until we were stopped by two troopers and placed under arrest."
